- 2 Set your own preferences
- 3 Convenient weather gadget
- 4 Keep track of locations
- 5 Track scores over time
- 6 See events as they happen

With the Home Control Kit you set goals for the behaviour of your children.

Small, battery powered receivers use the latest in Bluetooth Low Energy and GPS technology to keep track of your children's day to day routines. See if they're doing their chores, how they're doing in school and how they interact with others. Our smart algorithm uses all this information to calculate a personalized score for each child. Of course you'll also have access to a multitude of settings to fine-tune the algorithm by specifying what kind of behaviour you value most. And do your views change? No problem: the score history overview automatically adjusts itself to the new settings, allowing you to see when any unwanted behaviour might have started to first appear.
